

NO PRESSURE OF CUBAN SUGAR; ALL GOING TO EUROPE

Cleaning Up of Porto Rican Offerings Places Market in Better Condition

Offerings of new crop Cubans in New York were unreasonably light during the last week of 1915, according to Nevins & Callaghan of 99 Wall Street, who point out in the following market letter of December 31, that the early sugars are going to fill European contracts:

"The past week, which has been shortened by holidays," says the letter, "has been productive of but limited business. Sales made early in the week of some 40,000,50,000 bags Porto Ricans to clear at various dates within the first half of January at 4.45c basis 96 deg. c. i. f. removed a weak feature from the market, as sellers of these sugars had been anxious to close them out. With these press parcels out of the way, the market became firmer in tone, except for nearby sugars.

"Several local refiners had closed or were about to close down for an annual repairs and such refiners as were still working, appeared to be sufficiently supplied with immediate stocks to meet the light demand they were encountering for refined. In consequence, sales of about 11,000 bags of Cubans for December clearance to a refiner at 3.55c basis 96 deg. c. & f. established a decline of 1-4c under previous prices paid for prompt shipment Cubans, while a small cargo for first half January clearance sold at 3.91c basis 96 deg. c. & f., which was 1-16c advance over last price paid for Cuban sugars in this position.

"The offerings of Cubans during the week were unreasonably light, probably due to the urgent necessity for the early production of the island to apply on sales already made for shipment here, and to cover commitments for European accounts on f. o. b. Cubans purchases made earlier in the season and for which the purchasing agents provided steamers more promptly than was anticipated. Therefore while refiners are more or less indifferent as buyers, yet sellers are not pressing their offerings of Cubans, preferring to wait until they have sufficiently covered these contracts before they feel warranted in making further tenders. The week closed with moderate offerings of Cubans held at 3.55c to 3.75c basis 96 deg. c. & f. for December clearance and in port. 3.55c for first half January shipment and 3.12c for all January shipment and 3.35c basis 96 deg. c. & f. for December clearance, and with a limited quantity of Porto Ricans available at 4.55c for prompt clearance and 4.45c basis 96 deg. c. i. f. for last half January clearance.

"The weekly cable on Tuesday from Cuba reported receipts of 27,704 tons and 77 Centrals grinding, as compared to 22,000 tons receipts and 51 Centrals at work at the corresponding date last year. Today 92 Centrals are in operation and the weather is favorable for the growing crop.

"The demand for refined has been extremely light, the trade being fairly well supplied at the moment and not caring to replenish stocks until after the holidays. The Federal S. R. Co., who are now closed for annual repairs, reduced their price during the week to 5.35c less 10 per cent to dispose of a small balance of stock they had on hand, and withdrew from the market after having done so. All other interests are quoting 5.35c less 2 per cent and getting very little business.

WILDER LODGES FORMAL PROTEST UPON GOVERNOR of the cabinet members, particularly the attorney-general, whom he saw in the matter of judicial appointments in Hawaii.

"Federal Judge Dole will not be re-appointed," said Judge Wilder shortly after his return this morning. "You may bank on it that there will be none but Democrats put on guard, though there are the kindest feelings for Judge Dole personally."

"As for the bill which would allow Judge Dole to retire on pension, that has very good prospects indeed. Senator O'Gorman, an influential member of the upper house, introduced the bill there."

Coke's Chances Bright

"It looks like a cinch for Jim Coke to get the district attorneyship," comments Judge Wilder. "Of course, the point is raised that he cannot be appointed during the legislative term for which he was elected, but that is not settled. Jim thinks it will not hinder his appointment; personally, I have my doubts. But there have been a great many strong Democrats of the house and senate urging upon the department of justice that Coke be recommended for appointment."

"The president is taking a very keen interest in Hawaii matters and particularly in appointments to office in Hawaii. I know that he is watching appointments here."

"I asked Secretary Lane if he and the department of the interior still held conference in Governor Pinkham. He said, 'Yes, we have confidence in him,' and I rather that the interior department does have strong confidence in the governor. But it is certain that the president is considering these appointments that have been made and the protests against some of them."

"Hawaii legislation in general stands a very good chance of going through Congress with the members as well-disposed as they are toward the territory. There is, however, in my opinion absolutely no chance for the plan to go through proposed by Perbes, of diverting the customs revenues."

When asked as to what course he will take now in emphasizing his protest against the acts of Governor Pinkham which he holds objectionable, Judge Wilder said:

"I am not out to oust Mr. Pinkham. But what the responsible Democrats of Hawaii object to and have a right to object to is the appointment of Republicans when good Democrats are available. It is this sort of administration which we protest against, for it is not the policy of the national Democratic administration nor is it playing fair with Hawaii."

Open Letter to Governor

The open letter which Judge Wilder has addressed to Governor Pinkham was mailed to the governor from San Francisco, dated January 3, and presumably was received by the governor in the last mail. It is as follows:

Sir:

In the issue of the Hawaiian Gazette dated December 17, 1915, there was published the following wire:

"Wilder's statement relative to my health and intentions is a figment of his imagination and has been given publicity for ulterior motives."

If you caused this wire to be sent, as I assume you did, I propose to show you how false its contents are. In the first place, I would remind you that when I fight, I fight in the open, and what I have to say to a man, I say it to his face. I have never yet stabbed a friend or foe in the back. In other words, I play the game as I understand it.

In the second place, this controversy, or whatever else you care to call it, is of your own making and, I assume, of course, because you desired to have me resign.

Revives Charge of Republicanism. In 1913, the news that your name had been sent by the president to the senate for confirmation as governor of Hawaii came as a shock to the great bulk of Democrats in Hawaii, irrespective of what the balance of the residents thought. We Democrats were not consulted whether you would be satisfactory to us or not. We, who had lived in Hawaii since annexation, knew that you had held office under a Republican administration, particularly offensive to Democrats politically, with an undated resignation hanging over your head, that you then belonged to a Republican precinct club, that you were then contributing part of your official salary to a Republican campaign fund devoted to defeating the polls good Democrats, and that you were generally considered a Republican in Hawaii. One thing is certain, and that is this: If you were then a Democrat, you kept it to yourself.

After months of weary waiting in Washington, you were confirmed by the United States senate one afternoon by a vote of 25 to 24, barely a quorum being then present, and, as you know, a majority of the 25 senators that voted to confirm you were Republicans, and, as you also know, the 25th vote was delivered by Senator Perkins of California, who was taken from a sick bed to deliver his vote for you, while many of the Democratic senators were absent on the understanding that the matter of your confirmation would not be called up that day.

Could Have Prevented Confirmation. I now notify you that I then had it in my power to prevent your confirmation. I refused to give the word. Why? May be it was in memory of the days when you and I used to discuss politics with the American flag and Constitution in one hand and a wine glass in the other.

You wrote me in April, 1914, that in 1913 I was being considered for governor, but that, unfortunately, as you put it, charges of over-indulgence were laid against me (which charges, you said, put me out of the running), in which charges you also said you took no stock. You probably never knew that in 1913 I refused, for reasons of my own, to have anything to do with the office of governor of Hawaii. To verify this statement you may refer to your friends, L. A. Thurston, W. O. Smith, J. F. Colburn and others living in Honolulu too numerous to mention (whose names I can furnish on request, however), and to certain friends of yours in Washington whose names I can also furnish, if requested. So I was never in the running.

Declines to Have Governor Criticized

As to the charges of over-indulgence to which you referred, I wish to remind you that my habits are my own, and, if they are not as they should be, I decline to have them criticized by even the present governor of Hawaii. It has been said that some men are better drunk than others sober. However that may be, I know this, and that is, that there are worse things politically than drinking and one of them is political dishonesty, that is, the sudden change of political views in order to hold public office—something which the real man despises, and something also which I notified the White House and the department of the interior I believed you were guilty of.

I have done nothing toward seeking your removal. In the month of December, 1915, at the request of the White House and the department of the interior, I commented in writing on the appointments you have made and presume you can receive copies of these comments on application. I did not hesitate to criticize you severely from a political point of view and am perfectly willing to stand by what I said and wrote.

Test of Democracy

If, as reported to me, you notified the department of the interior that there were not enough Democrats in Hawaii of sufficient ability to fill the offices at your command, you made a deliberate misstatement. It may be that your long absence from Hawaii, while you were in the Philippine islands recruiting labor for the Hawaiian sugar barons, caused you to so get out of touch with local affairs that you may have believed your statement. But since your assumption of the office of governor have you associated with Democrats and attempted to ascertain who were Democrats and who were not? Have not your closest associates and intimates since that time been Republicans? While your official door has always been open to all, can you say the same about your private door?

Intimations of Resignation

On receiving an intimation from Washington that you were going to resign, I announced that, if such was going to happen, I would seek the position. This intimation was strengthened by the following facts, which I challenge you to deny, to wit:

1. Mr. William Kent, congressman from California, the man who stood sponsor for you, is now seeking a man to suggest to replace you. He has now in mind Mr. Albert F. Judd and Mr. Charles R. Forbes.

2. The president of the United States notified the secretary of the interior that he did not want you in Washington urging legislation of any kind in response to your request for a leave of absence in order to visit Washington.

3. You are now grooming Mr. Charles R. Forbes to succeed you as governor. If you do not contemplate resigning, why did Mr. Forbes tell me that he would withdraw in my favor?

Mr. Forbes (and I believe him to be a truthful man), in case you are not contemplating resigning, is either displaying to you or lying to me.

Now, I do not care to be governor of Hawaii. In the first place, I cannot afford it. In the second place, I loathe the social end of it. In the third place, judicial work and not executive appeals to me. There is only one office in Hawaii that does appeal to me, and that is the office of chief justice of the supreme court. That office, however, so far as I am concerned, must seek the man and not be sought for. But, as long as a man as A. G. M. Robertson is willing to hold that office, I would not even accept it, if offered.

Reasons for Present Action. Why, then, am I now seeking to be the next governor of Hawaii? It is simply and solely this, that the natives of Hawaii, who are democratic by inclination, for reasons which you may not understand, are entitled to have one of their own sit in the place of their deposed sovereign. Again, the kama'aina in Hawaii, who have (with the assistance of malcontents, I will admit), made her what she is today, are entitled to have one of their kind as governor.

Lastly, but not least, the Democrats in Hawaii, who have had to stand 13 years of Republican rule—misrule as I call it—are entitled to have a Democratic governor when the president of the United States is a Democrat.

With assurances of the highest personal consideration, I remain, Yours very truly,

(Signed) A. A. WILDER.

San Francisco, California, Dated January 3, 1916.

To Hon. L. E. Pinkham, Governor of Hawaii.

Governor Pinkham said on inquiry today that he had received such a letter from Judge Wilder. He was asked what he intends to do with it.

"I shall pay no attention to it whatever," he replied with vigor.

PERSONALITIES

W. H. HEEN, deputy attorney general, returned this morning from Hilo on the Great Northern.

PRIG-GEN, SAMUEL I. JOHNSON, National Guard of Hawaii, came over on the Great Northern this morning, returning from Hilo.

J. L. MILLIGAN, inspector at the U. S. immigration station, and Chuck Hoy, interpreter in the same service, returned today on the Great Northern from Hilo, where they went on immigration service business.

R. S. CHASE, road engineer at Hapipuu, is in the city today with his hand in splints as the result of a broken finger bone received while cranking an automobile. The accident occurred two weeks ago, but Chase was bothered so little by the hand that he did not know the bone was broken until yesterday, when he came to see a doctor.

Four hundred thousand dollars in stocks were stolen from a registered mail pouch recently at Wilmington, Del. while in transit in a one-horse covered wagon from the Wilmington postoffice to the Pennsylvania railroad station.

YOUR BRONCHIAL TUBES

When a cold settles in the bronchial tubes, with that weakening, tickling cough, immediate treatment is very important. The breath seems shorter because of mucous obstructions; usually fever is present, your head jars with every cough and your chest may ache. This is no time for experimenting or delay—you must get Scott's Emulsion at once to drive out the cold which started the trouble, and it will check the cough by aiding the healing process of the enfeebled membranes.

If you have any symptoms of bronchitis, or even a stubborn cold, always remember that Scott's Emulsion has been relieving this trouble for forty years. It is free from alcohol or drugs. Refuse substitutes.
